Welcoming Speech

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that we welcome all of you to the 2016 International Neuromodulation Society (INS) Interim Meeting & The 7th Neuromodulation Congress of Chinese Neuromodulation Society, scheduled from 25th to 28th Aug. 2016, in Chengdu, China. Neuromodulation Congress of Chinese Neuromodulation Society is a Neuromodulation academic conference organized by Chinese Neuromodulation Society (CNMS), Chinese first neuromodulation academic organization. Since its start in 2008, the congress has been held in Shi Jiazhuang, Beijing, Beijing, Guangzhou, Yinchuan and Hangzhou for six times, and it's getting richer in contents each year. Neuromodulation academic communication on the conference stands for China's top level in the field, and delegations on the congress are the industry's leading figures in China. Therefore, Neuromodulation Congress of Chinese Neuromodulation Society is always regarded as a top platform for colleagues in Neuromodulation to exchange ideas. It's hoped that this congress can gather more updated and brilliant academic theses and attract more professional guests to come.

Neuromodulation technology is started in China around 20 years ago, from deep brain stimulation in the treatment of Parkinson disease to the treatment of body pain, epilepsy, obsessive-compulsive disorder etc. Today we have developed the skills, and Neuromodulation is able to cover every aspects in nerve-sciences such as the basics, clinics, and translational research such as nerve, heart, digestion, ENT, urology, spine and spinal cord etc. The 21st century could be a golden time for Neuromodulation advancement. The United States and Europe have in recent years initiated brain science research projects, in which Neuromodulation plays an important role. With its development in equipment, technology, research and an increasing number of pursuers, Neuromodulation has been curing more and more people.

This congress, themed by The Application of Neuromodulation, focusing on the developing trend and academic research as well as its clinical application, will provide an academic platform for colleagues to compare notes and discuss about the academy's development trends. Hopefully our guests will have tremendous gains in such a limited time.

As the organizer of the meeting, we appreciate all interested parties who will come and attend this congress on 25th -28th Aug. 2016 in Chengdu, and together we can promote the development of Neuromodulation.

Welcome to the 7th Neuromodulation Congress of Chinese Neuromodulation Society !
